MURDER AT BOWMAN.

Negro Man Meets Wife in Fields and Shoots Her.

Charlie Davis, a negro who recently moved in to Orangeburg County from Florida, went in a field near Bowman Monday morning where his former wife, Lucy Dwight was working and fired three shots at her, the last two being fatal. He first engaged her in conversation, to which she paid no attention, then he fired. He then turned and walked away in the direction of Rowesville.

The only witness of the scene was the daughter of the deceased woman, who had been working with her mother. Other hands who had been working in the field left immediately the firing started to give the alarm. Upon this being done the authorities in Columbia were notified and asked for bloodhounds. The bloodhounds happened to be out on a farm nine miles from Columbia, and as they would arrive too late they were not sent. However, the bloodhound from Dorchester county were secured and followed the trail for a distance in the direction of Rowesville but they gave up.

MAKES A GOOD START

A GOOD ROADS AND DRAINAGE CLUB ORGANIZED.

At the Court House on Tuesday Morning With a Large Membership Enrolled.

In answer to a call of the Hon. Samuel Dibble, Executive Committee member for Orangeburg County of the Good Roads and Drainage Association of the State, a number of gentlemen met in the Courthouse on Tuesday morning and organized the Orangeburg County Good Roads and Drainage Association by the election of the following officers: F. J. D. Felder, president; W. S. Barton, Jr., 1st vice president; R. A. Walter, 2nd vice president; and T. R. Connor, 3rd vice president; W. W. Watson, secretary and treasurer; J. S. Connor, assistant secretary and treasurer.

The association has already two hundred members, which number, it is hoped, will be very greatly increased in a short time. To this end the work of enrolling the entire county will be undertaken at once. An organization is wanted in each township to look after its particular roads and secure members for the county association. In this way, it is hoped that the membership of the association can be built up until its number thousands, and every nook and corner of the county be represented in the county association.

An advisory board of the county association, and a representative from each township, will be appointed by the president as soon as he can look over the ground and select suitable representatives for each township. The county association will meet on the call of this board, which will have a kind of supervisory control of the association. It is expected that the county association will grow so rapidly that Orangeburg will be represented at the State meeting at Alken next November by a large delegation.

Mr. R. A. Walter said that Mr. Norton H. Heyden, Jr., of the Fork, would be ready in a short time with a number of teams that will be furnished by the residents of that section to work the river road on the other side of the bridge leading into this city. Mr. Walter then made a motion that a committee be appointed to call upon the street committee of the City Council and request their co-operation with the gentlemen of the Fork by building up the lower end of Russell street to the river bridge. The choir named Messrs. J. W. Bowman, Henry Holman and R. A. Walter as the committee to carry out Mr. Walter's resolution.

Mr. W. S. Barton, Jr., said he was willing to send four teams to assist in working the Whitman street road as far as the railroad crossing, and he was sure that others were willing to do the same if the city would be willing to co-operate. Mr. Barton made a motion that the attention of the City Council be called to the very poor condition of the street leading into this city from the various sections and request that they be placed in proper condition. This is a matter that should be given immediate attention by the City Council.

Negro's Peculiar Death.

A most unusual death took place near Riley's Station, in Calhoun county, Monday morning about 9 o'clock. Ben Butler, colored, a section hand on this division of the Southern Railway, it appears, was beating a cross-tie in position with a heavy sledge hammer. Making a mislick, the hammer struck him on his right leg, midway between the ankle and knee, causing a flesh wound. He immediately fell from shock and remained conscious for some time, but died before the services of a physician could be secured.

Dr. A. R. Able, who reached him a short time after death, says that no bones were broken and no arteries or nerves severed. Butler had been a rather hard drinker for years, and not being in the best physical condition, the attending physician attributed his death to shock, and a possibly diseased heart. He had been a laborer on the Southern Road for twenty-two years.
